NARRATIVE:

Sanchez has an extensive adult criminal history that began at the age of 21 and includes convictions for multiple possession of narcotic controlled substance, possession of controlled substance paraphernalia, suspended license, DUI, willful cruelty to a child, use / under the influence of controlled substance, unlicensed driver, corporal injury to spouse and battery. Sanchez recently served a 32-month state prison terms for possession of narcotic controlled substance and was released from state prison to the supervision of the Los Angeles County Probation Department on July 13, 2012. Under the Governor's Public Safety Realignment Act of 2011, better known as Assembly Bill 109 (AB 109) the responsibility of lower-level offenders was shifted from the State to Los Angeles County. He subsequently failed to report to his probation officer and an arrest warrant was issued in September 2013 after Sanchez absconded from post release community supervision (PRCS). Sanchez qualified to be released to the supervision of probation, under AB 109, because his current commitment offense for possession of narcotic controlled substance is defined as non-serious and non-violent under the California penal code. Sanchez is a member of the "Monrovia Nuevo Gang. His prior criminal history, gang membership, and current failure to comply with the terms of release make him a most wanted.
